STILL AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

CITY BALANCE $3,840.77 OVER LAST YEAR JULY 2.

WATER FUND LARGEST

Disbursements Larger First Quarter This Year Than for Same Period In 1924.

An increase of $3,840.77 in the city treasury on July 2 of this year is shown over the balance at the same time the previous year, according to a quarterly report of the receipts and expenditures of the first quarter made to the city council last night.

On July 2 this year there was a total of $55,645.88 as compared to $51,805.11 on July 2, 1924. This increase is shown in the face of an advance of larger expenses for running the city, as the disbursements for the first quarter, April 2, 1924-July 2, 1924, were less by nearly two thousand dollars, $1,943.03 to be exact, than the disbursements during the last quarter of the city's fiscal year.

A recapitulation of balances in all city funds for the period April 2, 1925 to July 2, 1925, is as follows:

Water department	$23,903.33
Street department	2,740.37
Street workers' fund	251.00
Library fund	3,116.47
General fund	13,264.84
1st water bond principal,	4,260.67
1st water bond interest,	1,858.78
Street lighting fund	3,878.08
2d water bond principal,	624.09
2d water bond interest,	1,698.29
Petty cash	50.00
Balance in all funds,	$455,645.88

The statement shows that although there was a greater expense during this first quarter in 1925, than for the same period last year, the receipts were not so large, as all receipts for the period this year were $10,512.95 as compared to $12,911.29. However, the increase in the total fund is brought about by the larger balance at the beginning of the first quarter this year than for the same time last year. Balance in all funds, April 2, 1925 was $64,094.17, or $8,162.16 more than it was April 2, 1924.

The water department fund shows the biggest gain of any of the funds over the balance at the same time last year, as the balance in the water department fund, July 2, 1924, was $14,669.19, while the report this year indicates $23,903.33.

The quarterly report indicates slightly smaller receipts for the first quarter this year than last, it being $9,152.36 and was $8,325.22 for the same period this year. The new water rate was not in effect during this quarter last year, as a 20 per cent reduction took effect after the second fiscal quarter last year. More improvements are being made this year in the water department as is evidenced by the increase in disbursements. Expenses in this fund April-July, 1925, were $8,597.30, which is $903.91 more than last year for same period.

The general fund, the second largest city fund, is about as large as it was at this time last year, there being a difference of $373.96 in favor of the balance last year. With just this small difference the quarterly report just completed shows the disbursements the first quarter this year to exceed the disbursements for same time last year by $1,743.42, while the receipts this year were $627.69 less.

The disbursements in the general fund for the first quarter this year are listed as:

Office salaries, $672; wages, $1,496.70; general expense, $187.28; general supplies, $326.62; fire department, $127.50; special police, $9.50; paving publications, $211.83; printing and publishing, $78.75; oil and gas, $33.11; petty cash, $49.35; engineers' services, $1,679.60; repairs and renewals, $321.88; city physician, $44.50; traffic control knobs, $42; galvanized tubing, $229.72.

The expenses of the water department are divided as follows:

Office salaries, $450; wages, $2,162.92; fuel, electric current, $1,127.82; coal, $508.01; fire pumps, $75; total, of $1,710.83; general supplies, $556.29; general expense, $50.43; repairs and renewals, $3,645.33; refunds, $9.50; grand total of $8,597.30.

FILES LIEN ON COUNTY COURT

RICHARD D. BRUNJES, ATTORNEY, SEEKS LEGAL FEES IN SUITS

FOR BACK SALARIES

Contends He Was Attorney in Suits of Prosecuting Attorneys Which Case Was Recently Decided

The county court has received an attorney's notice of lien to defendant from Richard D. Brunjes, an attorney in Benton County, Missouri, in the case of Charles F. McCaffrey, Dr. O. L. Curl and George Pat Wright in their suit against the county court for back salaries as prosecuting attorneys.

The lien of Brunjes in the McCaffrey case is for $1,250 for legal service, and in the Curl case for the same amount, and in the case of Wright, it is for $52.08 a month or the same amount. As McCaffrey has been paid his back salary of $5,000 for two years he was prosecuting attorney, there may be some question whether the lien would hold unless Brunjes appears as attorney of record. Since the county court has declined to pay the additional back salary to Dr. O. L. Curl, former prosecutor, and also the increase to George Pat Wright, the present prosecutor, it is not known what effect the lien would have in these cases. The court has said it would not pay Curl and Wright until some action was brought against them to force payment of this back salary.

The lien of Brunjes was made out under Section 690-91 R. S. Mo. 1919, and states in part as follows:

"You, E. T. Bailey, presiding judge, and J. N. Billingsley and Charles S. Armstrong, associate judges of the county court of Nodaway County, Missouri, are hereby notified that I, Richard D. Brunjes, as an attorney at law, contracted with Charles F. McCaffrey, in an action or proposed action at law, for legal services to be rendered him, the said Charles F. McCaffrey, for a certain portion or percentage of the proceeds of a settlement of said Charles F. McCaffrey's claim or cause of action involving his, the said Charles F. McCaffrey's salary as prosecuting attorney of Nodaway County, Missouri, from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1923; and that he, the said Richard D. Brunjes, as such attorney, as aforesaid and in the premises as aforesaid, and at the request of the prosecuting attorneys of Missouri, in a meeting held for that purpose and also at the request of him, the said Charles F. McCaffrey, instituted in behalf of the prosecuting attorneys of Missouri and carried to successful termination the initial case, State ex rel Brunjes vs. Brockelman, et al, in the Supreme Court."

Another section of the lien states:

"And that alll recoveries had and and every case determined has for its authority the said case State ex rel Brunjes vs. Brokelman, et al, as shown by the recent case State ex rel McCaffrey vs. Nodaway County, Missouri."

The attorney's notice of lien is the same in the case of Dr. O. L. Curl, as well as in the case of George Pat Wright.

It is understood that Brunjes has filed these liens in each county of the state.

Russia Fearful of England's Hostility

Rumors Current That British Ambassador to France Proposes Breaking Off Relations.

Moscow, July 7.—The almost open hostility displayed towards soviet Russia by the British government has caused apprehension here.

Rumors were current at soviet headquarters here today that the British ambassador to France has proposed a mutual breaking off of relations with Moscow as a part of an economic blockade against Russia.

Guard Accepts Drink; Relics Are Stolen

Rome, July 7.—St. Peters was robbed of priceless relics because a guard yielded to temptation and took a drink offered by two workmen laboring there. The workmen were thieves, the drink had been doctored and the guard passed out.

This was disclosed by police today in announcing that all of the jewels stolen from the edifice had been recovered. Ten men, accused of complicity in the theft, were under arrest.

Two Seriously Wounded And Another Missing Following Fight—Troops Called Out.

A machine gun is believed to have been used by the rum runners, according to the wounded officers, who were brought to a local hospital.

A troop of calvarymen from the Presidio at Monterey was called out early today to assist in subsiding the rum runners.

DRY LAW NOT WAR MEASURE

"PROHIBITION MERELY RESULT OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT."

"YOUTHS HOLD KEY"

Mrs. Minnie Radcliffe, State W. C. T. U. Organizer, Delivers Address At M. E. Church, South.

Declaring that prohibition was simply the result of public sentiment against alcoholic beverages and was not a "war measure," enacted while American youth was in France, Mrs. Minnie Radcliffe, state W. C. T. U. organizer and superintendent of prison reform, urged a more rigid observance of the laws of the community, state and nation in her address at the M. E. Church, South, this afternoon.

Mrs. Radcliffe pointed out that when the United States entered the World War thirty-three states had voted dry and more than 85 per cent of the area, inhabitated by more than sixty million persons, was dry territory.

"Does this sound like prohibition was put over while our boys were over seas?" she asked. "Before the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted, out of the 2,540 counties in the United States, only 305 had not declared themselves dry."

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is laying special stress on the reading of the Bible in the public schools of the country, Mrs. Radcliffe told her audience this afternoon.

"In the schools of fifty-six cities and towns in Missouri, the students are reading and studying the Bible in the school-room," Mrs. Radcliffe continued. "Statistics show that 66.5 per cent of the children of Protestants and 78.4 per cent of the children from Catholic homes are not enrolled in any religious homes."

Mrs. Radcliffe called attention to the recent international W. C. T. U. convention, recently held in Glasgow, Scotland. Eighteen hundred delegates were present and fifty countries represented. One hundred and fifty women from America were present. The convention is expected to cause a great deal of agitation for local option in Scotland, Mrs. Radcliffe said.

"Miss Anna Gordon, national president, wants one million boys and girls in the ranks of the Loyal Temperance Legion and the Young People's Branch this year that they might have instilled into their plastic minds the principles of right living and clean thinking," Mrs. Radcliffe continued.

"May the white-ribbon forces of America realize anew that the law-makers ten years hence are forming their habits and opinions now. Our young people are a problem today and we must solve the problem with sympathetic understanding.

"Children must be taught that laws in the home must be observed for the common welfare, that the laws of the community are for the common welfare, and that to be good home citizens and good community citizens, we must observe the law. This will do much in the training for citizenship.

"The Eighteenth Amendment committed the nation unalterably to the policy of suppressing with all its powers the drinking of liquor in every place to which the jurisdiction of the United States extends."

Six Bodies Rescud After Boat Sinks

Sunday School Picnic Ends in Tragedy —Eight Persons Are Known Lost in Pinafore Lake.

Saint Thomas, Ontario, Canada, July 7.—The bodies of five small children and one adult had been taken from the waters of Lake Pinafore near here today as evidence of a picnic tragedy which took the lives of eight persons, seven of them children late yesterday whe nan amusement boat capsized in mid-lake. Dozens of searchers in row boats were combing the water for other bodies.

Twenty-one children and two adults were aboard the boat when it capsized. Jack Hastings, a sailor, rowing nearby at the time, told authorities that the children all seemed to rush to one side of the boat and a minute later the small craft turned over on its side. As he rowed to the rescue, the boat turned turtle and went down. The children were scrambling over each other in panic making rescue difficult.

The children were attending a joint Sunday School picnic being held on the shores of the lake, and were making their last trip of the day on the amusement boat.

STILL SILENT ON KLAN ISSUE

PRESIDENT REFUSES TO BECOME INVOLVED.

FOLLOWS 1924 COURSE

Coolidge Said To Be Put Out Over Move To Question His Position With Reference To Order.

Swampscott, Mass., July 7.—All efforts to involve President Coolidge in a controversy over the Ku Klux Klan will be ignored entirely.

The hundreds of letters recently sent him following the announcement that he was to be invited to address and review an assembly of that secret order in Washington next month, including the invitation itself, will go unanswered. These letters will never be "officially received."

Definite announcement to this effect was forthcoming from an authentic source at the summer White House here today. Mr. Coolidge, it was stated in his behalf, will follow the same course he pursued in the 1924 campaign when similar and unsuccessful efforts were made to secure from him a definite pronouncement of his views on the Klan.

A revival of the Klan controversy, threatened over the week end following announcement in Washington that Col. C. O. Sherrill, in charge of public buildings and grounds, had written the President asking for instructions as to what action he should take on a request from the order for permission to use the Sylvan theater, great natural amphitheater of Washington's park system, for their assembly.

Those close to President Coolidge make no attempt to disguise the fact that the chief executive is somewhat put out by the reported action of Sherrill who, until a few months ago, was his military aide. The President feels it was a tactless move and he has no intention of replying, should the letter be "received."

PRES. FAVORS LOWER TAXES

BELIEVES CONGRESS SHOULD MAKE ANOTHER REVISION.

A SURTAX REDUCTION

Thinks It Ought To Be Cut To Minimum—Coolidge Has in Mind a General Revision Scheme.

Swampscott, Mass, July 7.—President Coolidge favors the downward revision of taxes reaching all brackets, it was said officially here at the summer White House today. Dependent upon the treasury department's figures on government surplus, Mr. Coolidge believes the coming session of Congress should undertake another general tax revision.

In the upper bracket, it was indicated that the President would look favorably upon a reduction of the surtax as low as twelve per cent. His first desire in this field is that the surtax be reduced to a minimum that will insure real revenue. He is willing to accept the figures of tax experts on this subject and he understands their estimate is from a minimum of twelve per cent to a maximum of twenty-five per cent.

Mr. Coolidge has in mind a general tax revision scheme which will lighten the burden on big business in such a way as to actually produce greater revenue. It is his opinion that such a revision would work to the advantage of the small tax-payer in that business conditions generally would improve and thereby assure the salaried man better wages.

In the inheritance tax field the President thinks the government should inaugurate a program looking towards ultimate abolition. He feels that the national inheritance tax of forty per cent is so high as to make the collection of any real revenue practically impossible and he also holds that such a high percentage amounts to confiscation. Inheritance taxes, Mr. Coolidge believes, should be left to the state.

POINTS WORTH MEMORIZING.

Better advertising philosophy says Editor and Publisher, is not often heard than that which Walter B. Winstock, of the Philadelphia Bulletin, gave in the course of a careful address before the Second District Associated Advertising Clubs at Bethlehem last week.

Here is a formula which is worth pasting in the hat of any retailer:

1. Avoid transient advertising. Keep pegging away steadily with small space regularly.

2. Never insert an advertisement until you are sure it is definite and true.

3. Do not over-advertise and do not under-advertise. Decide on a definite budget in the dominant newspaper in your community and stick to it.

4. Do not try to be smart, exclusive or flippant in your advertising copy, but stick to plain interesting store news.

5. Avoid letting your impressions or personal preferences or family likes and traditions sway you into buying newspaper advertising space. Apply to this the same careful buying methods you use in buying merchandise. Take the time and trouble to check upon the mediums in the field you want to cover. Lay on the table all the data you gather and compare it carefully, and then only let your positive findings tell you what newspaper is the best for your business. It is important that you should know the exact circulations, the class of readers, whether the circulation was obtained through worth as a newspaper or through artificial circulation methods such as prizes, guessing contests, etc. The newspaper that sells the most copies on its merits as a newspaper will usually have the largest circulation, have the greatest advertising value, and carry the largest number of advertisements.

Out of the long and rich experience of the Bulletin Mr. Winstock also coined six reasons for newspaper advertising. The list is not complete, nor is it put forth as final, but it certainly does comprehend the essentials. An ambitious young salesman, with no previous advertising experience, might commit to memory the following Six Reasons and be able to sell newspaper space with intelligence. And if he would lead his retail clients along the path suggested by the five paragraphs quoted above he would render service of sound value.

Here are the six reasons for newspaper advertising:

1. Newspaper reading is a universal daily habit; newspaper advertising therefore in dominant newspapers reaches each day virtually all who buy.

2. Advertising in newspapers is the lifeblood of local retail stores, because it touches all consumer sources in every community.

3. Newspaper advertising cuts retail selling costs, because it entails no waste in reaching prospects. Every buyer or subscriber to a newspaper and his family is a possible prospect.

4. Newspaper advertising insures quick, thorough and economical dealer distribution. Retailers make more money selling national products advertised in their home town newspapers.

5. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell people in any given community what retailers in that section handle their goods.

6. Newspaper advertising costs less than any other kind, because it is of known quantity and known quality and is sold at a known price.

A CHICAGO SECESSION THREAT

The corporation counsel of Chicago has been directed in a resolution introduced in the city council to explain through what procedure the municipality might withdraw from Illinois and be set up as an independent state. It is unlikely that Chicago will secede; but arguments can be advanced in favor of such a move.

The Western metropolis is irritated against the rest of Illinois because the rural legislators wil not provide for the reapportionment of seats in the seats in the general assembly as called for by the constitution. Reapportionment will result in an increase in Chicago's representation in the legislature and the country members are blocking the change because they regard the interests of the rural districts as opposed to those of the city and are unwilling to strengthen the latter's position in the lawmaking body.

The same situation obtains in a number of states. There has been a flocking of people from the farms to the cities during the last decade or two but no corresponding readjustment has been made in the legislatures. The result has been that the cities are not adequately represented. Chicago has become so angry over the matter that it has threatened to withhold revenues owing from it to the state.

The divergent interests of New York City and the remainder of the state have led at times to the proposal that it should secede and be established as the state of Manhattan. It is a fact that the city and "up state," as it is called, are constantly in position.

The rural districts probably would suffer more from separation than the cities, for the latter contribute very heavily in taxes to the maintenance of the state government, and much of the urban taxpayers' money is spent on improvements, such as paved highways, in the rural regions.

There may be no relation, as the scientists say, between the Wyoming and California earthquakes but there is certainly a strong resemblance.

The Illinois Central railroad has filed an application for permission to drop twelve trains on the St. Louis division due to the inroads of bus lines on local business.

Coolidge's Son Dies Just One Year Ago

Swampscott, Mass., July 7.—Today is the first anniversary of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., younger son of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

They had planned to spend the day in Plymouth, Vt., so that they might visit the little hill top grave yard where the boy is buried, but the sudden illness of the President's father, caused an earlier trip last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge spent the day quietly, but there was no interruption of the President's daily program.

Out-of-Door Advertising Is Used to Large Extent During Recent Years

The following is the twenty-ninth installment of the article on "Community Advertising," written for the Democrat-Forum by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

One of the forces that will play a strong part in maintaining the economic balance in any community will be the advertising which that community uses in farm papers, rural newspapers, and similar publications. The city community is going to develop a community selling campaign designed to strengthen the social and economic life on the farm.

In the last 20 years poster advertising has grown from practically nothing at all to amazing proportions. There are now available, 250,000 24-sheet poster boards in more than 11,000 cities. Locations are selected to give maximum results.

In 15 years the American people have changed from essentially a home people to an automobile and "movie" people. We are, more or less, an out-of-door nation. This change in our habits and our mode of living is neglected in the brevity of our advertising copy.

In the development of tourist business the poster and outdoor display advertising are important and decidedly useful. People who live in the larger urban centers read the outdoor advertising copy more than is imagined by those who live in the smaller centers.

Advertising is the only force that can be employed successfully to counteract the natural hostility of the public toward all radical changes or innovations. Advertising is the "soul" of business.

Outdoor advertising is largely a matter of headline display. Community campaigns of various kinds have employed the outdoor advertising medium to good advantage. Banks, newspapers, and others of the local agencies for community advertising employ poster advertising. Outdoor advertising is as big as outdoors.

"Nobody can say I wasted my money"--

Peter DePaolo—1925 Indianapolis Race Winner

This statement from the young race driver, who purchased a Buick a week after he wheeled his car to victory at Indianapolis and broke the record of that famous Speedway, sums up the nation-wide opinion of Buick.

For, just as DePaolo recognizes the superiority of valve-in-head engines for the race track and personal use, so too have more than a million everyday motorists recognized the dependability and performance of Buick and the Valve-in-Head type of engine upon which Buick has concentrated for 21 years.

De Paolo bought a new Buick with the motor car expert's discriminating eye for performance, for dependability and genuine value. And his purchase is further evidence of the regard in which Buick is so universally held.

W. J. BRYAN TO GET RECEPTION AT DAYTON.

TOWN TO CELEBRATE

Federal Court Holds That It Is Entitled To Famous Legan Battle On Evolution Law.

Dayton, Tenn., July 7.—Its title to the legal battle of the century endorsed by a federal court, Dayton prepared a royal welcome today for William Jennings Bryan, who comes to aid the prosecution of John T. Scopes on charges of violating Tennessee's anti-evolution law.

With Bryan due at noon from his Florida home, this little mountain town, doomed to be the scene of legal warfare between the fundamentalists and evolutionists, planned a municipal celebration in honor of the decision of Federal Judge John T. Gore of Cookeville in refusing to halt the trial by injunction.

Bryan is to be the town's guest of honor at a series of feasts, closing with a banquet tonight.

Dayton, Tenn., July 7.—Court will hold two sessions a day during the Scope's trial, from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The defense counsel are recorded to be seeking a longer afternoon session.

Dayton, Tenn., July 7.—Evangelists have not been idle while many souvenir salesmen have been flooding the town with grotesque novelties.

They put up signs: "Read Your Bible."

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Dayton, Tenn., —July 7. — Dayton, Tennessee, has experienced one of those metamorphoses known to Shelby, Mont., and other little out-of-the-way places to which fate brings the sudden glare of the spotlight of human interest.

This little hillside town which never knew a uniformed policeman or a more ambitious motor vehicle than a rattly four-seater of ancient vintage, where people thought they had reached the quintessence of metropolitanism when two of the fast trains each day stopped at the station, now is all dressed up and in holiday mood, preening itself in its new-found fame.

Fashionably dressed visitors in smart motor cars drive through the narrow streets, tourists who want to send home a postcard from the scene of the Scopes trial.

Traffic is directed by uniformed officers from Chattanooga, there to help out the lone town marshal whose other duties as superintendent of the street department and water works and public buildings keeps him pretty busy.

Overhead, across the main street, hang banners — "Robinson's Drug Store—Where It All Started" (an illusion to Scopes' remark that the trial was the "result of a drug store argument that got out of control." "The best place to eat," "Tourists' Luneh," "Park Your Car at the Ball Park," and "Western Union."

Dayton never had a telegraph office of its own and this one is here only for duration of the trial.

Besides the tourists, of course, there are a number of serious-minded folks among the visitors, some school teachers and college professors having arrived.

While attorneys for both sides and those most vitally interested in the outcome of the trial, deplore the expression "monkey business" there is plenty of it in evidence. Shop windows are filled with monkey-this and monkey-that, monkey watch fobs, with "Dayton 1925" marked on them, monkey umbrella handles, neckties with monkey designs and so on.

The baseball park is lighted by night and guards watch over the automobiles parked there.

The brick courthouse, ready for the trial, is large and spacious inside. Clarence Darrow said it was the biggest he had ever seen when he visited here last month. Half of the space has been allotted to newspaper men.

Several enterprising Chattanoogans tried to lease the Presbyterian Tabernackle to convert it into an all-night dance hall and cabaret. But the Presbyterian deacons would not hear of it. They want to serve meals in it as 75 cents a head.

Proceedings at the trial will be transmitted by loud speakers to the lawns outside the courthouse where benches have been placed. A New Orleans contractor has erected a temporary wooden structure on the high school play ground where it also will be possible to follow the trial by means of amplifiers. Admission will be charged.

Program for Davis Concert Thursday

"It will be worth the price of Admission alone to hear Ernest Davis sing. 'Open The Gates of The Temple,' declared Charles R. Gardner, head of the College Conservatory of Music this morning in speaking of the Davis Concert to be given Thursday evening.

"In my opinion Ernest Davis is as great a singer as Paul Althouse," said Mr. Gardner. "He has prepared for us a magnificent program. His first group consists of dramatic numbers from Handel and is followed by an aria from Puccini's opera 'La Boheme.' Mabel Austin Davis, his wife, follows with the famous aria, 'One Fine Day," from 'Madame Butterfly.' The closing number, a duet from Verdi's 'Rigoletto,' is a fitting climax to such a program."

Mr. Gardner will give the appreciation of the numbers on the program to his classes tomorrow and Thursday morning. Anyone interested is welcome to attend these appreciation lectures.

The ticket sale, which opened at Kuchs Brothers today points to a large crowd. Mr. Davis will be remembered as one of the artists who appeared here during the Spring Music Festival.

The program follows:

I

No Specific Report on Strike Situation

Swampscott, Mass., July 7—Although President Coolidge has as yet no specific report from Washington on the threatening situation in the hard coal field, it was said today by an official spokeman for the President that Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, and James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor are keeping in close touch with developments bearing on the coming wage conference.

Should the situation become acute, the President will ask his two department chiefs for full information to aid him in taking any action which might be necessary to project the interests of the public from the possibility of another strike.

A picnic dinner was given Sunday at the College Park in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones and son, Allan, of Plattsburg, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Willhoyte and children of Holt, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Allan for the day. Others in the party were Miss Helen Willhoyte, a College student, Miss Katie Lee Allan, and Mrs. W. J. Innis and children, Donald, Doyle and Virginia, of Nevada, Mo.

Christian Endeavor Head Quits Position

Dr. Francis E. Clark Believes Lord's Army, Too, Should Have Age Limit.

Portland, Ore., July 7.—Dr. Francis E. Clark, familiarly known as "Father Endeavor Clark, founder and for the last forty-four years president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, has retired from the presidency.

He announced his resignation at last night's session of the thirtieth international convention. He will retain the presidency of the World's Christian Endeavor Union.

Dr. Poling Elected.

Dr. Clark's successor, Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York, was elected upon Dr. Clark's nomination at the executive meeting of the trustees. Dr. Poling for the last ten years has served as associate president of the movement and is co-minister of the Marble Collegiate church of New York City. Edward P. Gates, who has served as general secretary of the movement the last six years, was re-elected.

"Military men in army and navy are retired at the age of 64," said Dr. Clark in his address. "I have passed that by nearly ten years, the age when these officers must relinquish their commands and write 'retired' after their names." In the Lord's army, too, there comes a time when for the best efficiency a man should resign his post and place the standard of office in younger hands. Some months of ill health, as well as advancing years with their inevitable handicaps, compel me to do this now."

Works Way Across Continent.

Dr. Clark reviewed the growth of the Christian Endeavor movement from its inception at Portland, Maine, in 1881, to its present stage of development. He remarked he started at one Portland and retired at the other Portland.

He reiterated the basic principals of the Christian Endeavor movement, which he defined as "confession of Christ, service for Christ, fellowship with Christ's people and loyalty to Christ's Church."

New Plant Law in Effect Thursday

Measure Authorizes Embargoes On Plants And Shrubs Infested With Insects Or Disease.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 7.—An important new law for agriculture in this state known as the "Missouri Plant Act," will go into effect Thursday, when the measure passed by the last legislature become laws. The measure will mean much for farming and fruit growing, according to officials of the state marketing bureau here.

The measure introduced and sponsored by Representative T. R. Ely of Franklin County, makes possible the placing of embargoes against the importation of all kinds of plants or shrubs infected or infested with dangerous insect pests or plant diseases. It was first designed to protect the large cotton industry of Southeast Missouri from the ravages of the pink boll worm, boll weevil and other pests, but later was made to include all plants and shrubs after it was discovered Missouri had no adequate protection along this line.

Wide application of the statute will be possible, according to the officials of the department, who said it carries numerous "teeth" for its enforcement.

The "wide application" of the new statute will be found in the definition of the term "plants and plant products." It reads as follows: "The term plants and plant products' shall include all trees, shrubs, vines, forage and cereal plants, and all other plants, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, and all other parts of plants; and fruits, vegetables, roots, bulbs, seeds, wood, lumber and all other plant products.

A State Plant Board consisting of the president of the State Board of Agriculture, the dean of the College of Agriculture and the president of the State Horticultural Society, is established under the bill. This board is responsible for making all investigations relative to the need for embargoes, quarantines and the eradication of any injurious pests or plant disease threatening any industry of plant or plant products anywhere in the State of Missouri.

The measure represents agricultural legislation of the most constructive and permanent type, the marketing bureau asserted. It has the approval of the Federal Horticultural Board of the United States Department of Agricultural organizations in Missouri interested in the effective protection of Missouri plant life.

Gasoline for 20% to 30% More Motors

Collier's Weekly quotes Herbert Hoover as saying: "There is room for 20% to 30% increase in the standards of living today."

Increased living standards mean more automobiles, an increased demand for gasoline, and a greater opportunity for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to serve society.

It is estimated that today more than 83 million Americans enjoy the use of the 17¼ million automobiles now in service.

In view of this statement and its application, it is obvious that the petroleum industry as a whole and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as one of the outstanding units of this industry in particular, will be called upon to render to society a vastly greater service than they have been called upon to render in the past.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that one of the fundamentals of its service is to decrease the cost of manufacturing and distributing petroleum products by the rigid elimination of waste; to increase the percentage of oil products, especially gasoline, derived from crude petroleum.

Only through such service will it be possible to stretch the supply of crude oil to meet the demand for gasoline.

Mr. Hoover says: "That a general higher buying power can be created by paring down the losses in production and distribution."

It is such thrifty, far-sighted "paring down" of waste that enables the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to keep its service stations and tank wagons delivering gasoline and oils to you at prices so low that all can enjoy their use.

These low prices have been an important factor in helping to increase the living standards of the American working man, enabling him to ride to work in motor cars and raise his family in the suburbs where rents are lower and conditions more healthful.

OTIS BACK TO HIS OLD HOME

FEDERAL JUDGE MAKES TRIP BY AIRPLANE.

GIVEN BIG WELCOME

Dinner, With Plenty of Fried Chicken, Is Testimony of Love and Best Wishes.

(St. Joseph News-Press.)

Hopkins, Mo., July 7.—Only a few years ago the incident probably would have been dismissed in the local paper with an item: "Merrill Otis, a promising young law student at the University of Missouri at Columbia, spent Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Otis, near here."

But not so now. It was Judge Merrill E. Otis of the United States court for the western district of Missouri who visited here Saturday and Sunday and was welcomed by many persons who had listened, in the near forgotten school days, to Merrill's fervent stump speeches.

It was Judge Otis' first visit to his home town since he took the oath of office of the United States judgeship in the federal building in St. Joseph on the morning of Saturday, April 25, succeeding Judge Arba S. Van Valkenburg. A reception was accorded him on this trip back home, not banners and crowds, but his home folks, and a dinner with plenty of country fried chicken.

Arrived by Airplane.

Judge Otis arrived here at 12:40 o'clock Saturday afternoon in an airplane from Kansas City, where only an hour and a half before he had delivered a Defense day address. He had been provided with the army plane from Richards Field after being whisked away in a motor car from the speaking platform. When the committee in charge of Independence day program in the down-state city asked Judge Otis to make the principal address of the day he consented only after a means of getting him to this place had been arranged.

The plane landed without mishap in a field at the edge of town. Judge Otis wore the same clothes in which he appeared in Kansas City, but his outfit, when he landed here, included a bulky pack in the seat with him. It was a parachute.

"I brought it along for use just in case of emergency," he explained. "It was my first airplane ride. I'm an enthusiast now and expect to take a few more plane rides."

Wife and Daughter There.

Mrs. Otis and Dorothy, their daughter, were on hand to meet the landing plane. They had come to Hopkins on the train a few minutes before the plane came into sight. They had been met by Judge Otis' parents and together they went to the landing field. The plane at once started on its return trip.

Judge Otis, while on his visit here, met many of his old friends and school mates. Some of them had trudged over the hill to the school house with him not so very many years ago.

There had been some talk of a celebration early last week and it had been announced that he would deliver an address in Hopkins Saturday. There was no formal celebration.

Judge Otis returned to Kansas City early today by train, where he will be busy until Wednesday when he will go to St. Joseph.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

Pledge to the Public on Used Car Sales

1 All used cars offered to the public shall be honestly represented.

If a car is suitable only for a mechanic who can rebuild it, or for some one who expects only a few months' rough usage on a camping trip, it must be sold on that basis. Each car must be sold for just what it is.

2 All Studebaker automobiles which are sold as CERTIFIED CARS have been properly reconditioned, and carry a 30-day guarantee for replacement of defective parts and free service on adjustments.

This is possible because tremendous reserve mileage has been built into every Studebaker, which it is impossible to exhaust in years.

3 Every used car is conspicuously marked with its price in plain figures, and that price, just as the price of our new cars, is rigidly maintained.

The public can deal in confidence and safety only with the dealer whose policy is "one price only—the same price to all." For, to sell cars on this basis, every one of them must be honestly priced to begin with.

4 Every purchaser of a used car may drive it for five days, and then, if not satisfied for any reason, turn it back and apply the money paid as a credit on the purchase of any other car in stock—new or used.

It is assumed, of course, that the car has not been smashed up by collision or other accident in the meantime.

Not only to the public, but also to The Studebaker Corporation of America, whose cars we sell, we pledge adherence to the above policy in selling used cars.

Raborn-McComb Motor Co.

The Studebaker Corporation of America takes pride and pleasure in announcing that the above Pledge is being carried out by

RABORN-McCOMB MOTOR CO.

George P. Sillers, Manager, Maryville, Missouri

THE Pledge speaks for itself. It is a formal declaration of the fair and square attitude of Studebaker dealers toward the public.

It is an assurance of honest dealing in a line of merchandising which in some times and places has fallen into ill repute.

It is an assertion of confidence in the reserve mileage built into the sturdy "one-profit" Studebaker automobiles.

Students Urged to Get Vision and Let It Stay

Prof. H. A. Miller Speaks To College Y. M. C. A. This Morning On Sub- "Vision."

"Get a vision and let it stay with you," urged Harry A. Miller, in talking to the men of the College Y. M. C. A. this morning. His subject was, "Visions." In introducing his talk, he read a page from "The Dreamer," "Only things which dreamers make, live," he quoted.

Mr. Miller said there are three kinds of visions. First there are the near-sighted visions. Many people must be able to touch a thing before they can see it. If we depend on tangible things for truth we won't find it.

Secondly, there are visions which are blurred by stigmatism. Some people cannot see all the truth because their visions are blurred.

The third kind of vision is the far-sighted vision. Far sighted visions involve the element of faith. Mr. Miller then gave several illustrations of men who have caught visions and have then become of great service. He referred to the vision which Paul caught on the road to Damascus. If you have failed to catch the visiou which Paul caught on the road to Damascus, you have failed to see life in its true relation to God, he said.

Keith Swisher led the devotion. He read the Twenty-sixth chapter of Acts; first to twenty-fourth verses. Paul Stone followed with a short prayer.

3 Autos Jam Up on E. First Last Night

Three automobiles got in a jam on East First street about the 1200 block about 8:15 o'clock last night, however, no serious injuries resulting. Two Fords and a Hupmobile were damaged in the accidents.

There is some question as to who is to blame for the accident, but the Oren Masters, Jess Watts and James Conlin, Jr., cars all figured in the mix-up. It is claimed that Watts, who was driving east on First street, followed by Masters, turned over to the south side of the street, smashing into Conlin's car, which swerved to the north and jammed into the Masters' car. At this point there was another automobile parked at the north curb and persons attempting to start it, and the contention is that Watts swerved over to avoid hitting a woman. It is claimed by the other parties, however, that she was in the parked automobile at the time of the accident. Bent fenders, radius rods and tires blown out figured chiefly in the damages.

Protest Against New Treaties by China

Organizations Would Also Cancel All Present Agreements With Nations —Strike Conditions Unchanged.

Shanghai, July 7.—A nation-wide campaign, urging immediate cancellation of all foreign treaties, is apparently gaining force.

Scores of organizations in Shanghai today sent messages to Tuan Chi Jui, chief executive in Peking, advising against any negotiations with the foreign powers on the revision of the present treaties and asking the president to issue a mandate abrogating all present treaties.

Negotiations would then be started for new treaties on a basis of complete equality, according to this plan.

Strike conditions here remained unchanged today. All street cars are being guarded by the special foreign police following renewed attacks.

J. B. Lock, Jr., of Pickering was a business visitor today.

AILMENTS OF YOUNG GIRLS

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound School Teacher's Experience

Evanston, Wyoming.—"A few years ago I had troubles every month such as girls often have, and would suffer awfully every time. I was teaching school and it made it hard for me as I had to go to bed for two or three days. One day my mother suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it did wonders for me. In the course of a year I married and after my first baby was born I got up too soon and it caused a displacement. This troubled me so that I could hardly walk or do my housework. I knew what the Vegetable Compound did for me before so I took it again. It strengthened me and now I have five little kiddies. The eldest is six, the baby is five months old and I have twin boys three years old and a boy of five years. I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I owe my health to your wonderful medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."—Mrs. VERBENA CARPENTER, 127 2nd Avenue, Evanston, Wyoming.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, July 7.—Grain futures closed resting firmly at the top of sharp gains on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Bearish crop news was ignored.

Strong and sharply higher cash corn markets offset good growing weather and the improved crop outlook.

Steady provisions close represented moderate gains from a lower level.

GOOD CATTLE STEADY, ACTIVE, HOGS HIGHER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 6, 1925—Though receipts of cattle were the largest of the season the better grades held fully steady. The medium and plain kinds sold slowly at sagging prices. Because of the decreasing supply, cattle that show any material amount of feed are in active demand. Good stockers and feeders are selling readily also. Hog prices were higher again today and the market went on a 14 cent basis and back to the high point of March. Lambs were steady and sheep ruled stronger.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 24,000 cattle, 4,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep, compared with 20,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 11,200 cattle, 13,725 hogs, and 8,900 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

In some cases choice heavy steers and yearlings were higher. The bulk of the steers that had received dry food and the better classes of grass fat steers were steady, and the plain and medium grasserd sold slowly at a moderate decline. The price spread is the widest of the season. Prime, heavy, medium and light weight steers sold up to $13.00 and common grass fat steers as low as $4.50. Steers weighing up to 1,651 pounds brought $13.00, the highest price paid for heavy steers for several years past. Wintered Kansas steers sold up to $11. The bulk of the grass fat steers sold at $6.50 to $7.50, and short fed native steers brought $10.00 to $11.50. Grass fat cows and heifers were 10 to 15 cents lower. Canners and cutters and fed classes were steady. Prices for veal calves were unchanged, top $9.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Demand for stockers and feeders is increasing in keeping with the larger runs. Prices are holding steady. From the amount of inquiry coming trade in thin cattle will be large from now on.

The advance of 15 to 25 cents today, on top of last week's substantial gain took the hog market into a new high position for the summer season and back to the high point in March. Since low point in June the advance totals $2.50. The top price today was $14.25, and bulk of sales $13.90 to $14.20. Light lights sold at $13.25 to $13.85; packing sows $12.00 to $12.50 and stock hogs and pigs $12.50 to $13. Receipts will remain light through the summer months.

Sheep and Lambs.

Native lambs today sold at $13.50 to $14.25 and Western lambs up to $15.00 or steady at last week's decline which took the market more than $1.00 under ten days ago. Fat sheep were stronger. Louisiana wethers sold at $7.25 and native ewes brought $4.50 to $6.50.

Horses and Mules.

Trade in horses and mules holds to mid-summer dullness. The few offered brought steady prices.

INDEPENDENCE.

Quite a number from this community attended the celebration held at Burlington Junction July Fourth. The rain which came the night before, certainly did lay the dust, but didn't stop the crowd in the p. m., and evening. Some of those who attended were Oll Gregory and family, Raleigh Cable and wife, Everett Gray and family, Sam Ripley and wife, Will Simpson and family, Edward Gray and family, Marion Crawford and wife, Will Hoy and family, Gaylord Reynolds and sons, Adrain and LaVerne, Alvin Neal and family, Charles Hornbuckle and family, Tillie Hornbuckle wife and daughter, Miss Gladys, Mack Ulmer and family, Elma Koger and daughters, and Alvin Trueblood and family.

HARMONY.

CHURCH NOTES.

The regular services were well attended Sunday morning, at both Sunday School and the preaching service. The rainy weather has interfered with the services a great deal the last month or so, and the pastor expressed the hope that with more settled weather the absentees might be found at church. Miss Letha Lawson led the Christian Endeavor at the evening service and the sermon was on the subject of "True Patriotism."

Announcement was made that Miss Reed of New York City would give an address at this place July 16 on the work of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant church. The pastor spoke very highly of her ability as a Christian worker.

At the morning hour the pastor called attention to the rapid passing of the conference year and the near approach of the Fourth Quarterly Conference. The pastor will leave for the Annual Conference early in September.

The community celebration on the school grounds and the church lawn was enjoyed by all. Croquet and tennis were the games, and the children had lots of fun with firecrackers and other noise making devices. The Christian Endeavor conducted a stand and did a flourishing business in pop, ice cream and other Fourth of July embellishments. The success of this little celebration is another proof of the ability of this neighborhood to furnish its own amusements.

Commission Form Government Upheld

J. F. Hull, Postmaster, Speaks Before College Social Science Club Last Night.

As the most convincing proof of the practicability of the commission form of municipal government, J. F. Hull, postmaster, in a speech to the Social Science Club of the State Teachers College last night said that at the time this form of government went into effect here the city was $11,000 in debt and that within two years afterwards the debt was paid and that the city has plenty of funds since, without any increase in the tax levy.

According to Mr. Hull this condition is a result of efficiency in management of the city's affairs rather than of an increase in the actual amount of revenue. All money is now placed in one man's hands and upon him is put the responsibility.

In its essence the commission form of government is centralization of authority and responsibility and it is growing to be a more and more popular form of municipal government in the United States, Mr. Hull said last night. The big question for the citizen to consider is the manner of getting the most efficiency in government rather than the form of the government of the traditions that may be established.

Long Life means lowest cost

Buried in a Cloud of Dust for Days

the Light-Weight OilPull Gears are in no danger

Dust — dirt — sand — grit — those vipers that gnaw at gears — that steal away power — that wear out bearings — that hasten depreciation and add many dollars to upkeep — are powerless to hurt the new Light-Weight OilPull Tractor. You can operate it in a cloud of dust day after day without fear of damage.

For in this OilPull all operating parts are enclosed — all transmission gears are machine-cut, case-hardened steel, and operate in dust-tight cases, in baths of clean oil. Gears so protected have been known to operate for years — under hardest usage — and still carry the original tool marks. By such construction friction is robbed of its teeth — power is increased — life of service is lengthened — and cost is reduced.

In wet, slippery places — it gives double power — due to a Patented Drivewheel Interlock — by means of which the operator locks both drivewheels together at will. This prevents one wheel slipping, miring or digging in.
